For Real, or for Publicity?
Nothing Foolproof

You would think that if Hope's organized school teachers were in earnest about building up support for their side in the quarrel over salaries they would have directed their press release first to the home paper.

Instead they directed it to the out-of-town Sunday papers—and it's difficult for a person of common sense to understand how this would help them in what is essentially a local fight. But that's how it is.

The official release of the 116-member Hope Education Association was received by newspaper and radio offices in last Saturday morning's mail. A Friday night mailing is understood everywhere to be aimed at the Sunday newspapers, to the exclusion of the non-Sunday local papers—practically all of which go to press too early Saturday to handle any lengthy public statements.

The obvious result was that the state Sunday papers headlined the Hope story—Arkansas Gazette featured it on Page One of the first news section—and by the time it got down to us it was third-rate stuff, a Friday night release in a Monday evening paper.

Obviously its newsworthiness was zero and we shoved it into an inside page—running it at all only because the great majority of Star readers subscribe to no other daily.

Possibly the teachers deserve more money, but the problem of raising such money is tedious and complicated and requires the united backing of all the friends of education—which Friday night's unfortunate press release certainly didn't help.

I thought when I researched and bought for The Star our seven Minolta automatic 35-mm. cameras for loan to the public on newsworthy events that I had foolproof machines. And for most people they have worked fine.

But not with all people. Over the week-end someone turned in a camera that had been overcranked—that is, the 10 exposures had been increased to 12 or 14. The film was pulled out of its light-tight cassette and scrambled in the camera, resulting in the loss of all pictures.

When the photographer came to the end of the roll and the tension tightened up he simply disregarded the warning and went on cranking. It was a self-defeating calculation, for he lost the entire assignment.

It's safe practice never to use the entire load. Double-shoot the first picture, and manage to stop one picture short of the end. Most people do this. Those that don't do so run the risk of the disaster I have just recounted.

Several Hurt in Monticello School Fight

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Several pupils were injured, including one who was hospitalized with an eye injury, when fist-fighting broke out today at Monticello High School between black and white pupils.

Classes at the school were dismissed for the rest of the day.

It could not be determined how many were involved in the fighting.

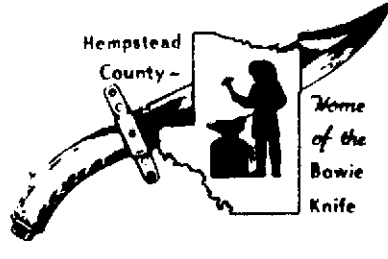

At least one gunshot was heard and a gun was confiscated by police, who were called to the campus to halt the fighting.

School Supt. Clyde Ross said fighting erupted before classes opened today and apparently was an aftermath of a fight between two pupils, a black and a white, Saturday, when school was in session on a make-up day.

High Court to Hear Suit on Patronage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court cleared the way today for a suit against alleged abuses of patronage by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's political organization.

Refusing unanimously to hear attorneys for the Cook County Democratic Organization, the justices set the stage for trial of a suit by Michael L. Shakman, an unsuccessful candidate for delegate to the Illinois Constitutional Convention in 1969.

In other actions today, the court:

—Rejected an appeal that tested the closing of the streets near the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago to demonstrators.

—Declined to hear a claim by the United Mine Workers of America that a brackaway, catch-all union owes it $8 million.

—Declined to consider a slander suit by an Estonian emigre that questioned the secrecy of Central Intelligence Agency operations in this country.

—Refused a review to a black airman of his court-martial conviction for wearing an "Afro" hairdo.

—Turned down singer Nancy Sinatra in her bid for a review of a complaint that a tire company's radio and television ads unfairly traded on her vocal style and used music she popularized.

Shakman is suing Daley and the Cook County organization, alleging that public employees are forced to contribute money and work to Daley's organization to keep their jobs.

He said somewhere between 8,000 and 30,000 public workers are involved, but that the exact number is kept a closely guarded secret of the Daley machine. Shakman's suit was first thrown out of federal district court but the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago, split 2-1, ordered a hearing. Daley's organization appealed to the Supreme Court to block any hearing, contending that Shakman's allegation is a political question and so not proper for court review. The appeal was turned down without comment.

Rep. McLarty Gives His Own Opinion on 68th Legislature's Success

By MACK McLARTY
State Representative
Hempstead County

The 68th General Assembly is now history and I feel that history will judge it well.

There were such a large number of major reform bills which passed that it was almost staggering to note the relative ease with which they achieved majority. This is particularly true when you consider that most of them would not have had a chance for passage two or four years ago or even during the 12 years of Orval Faubus.

Why is this true? Is Dale Bumpers such a magical personality that he dazzled the legislature? Or did the change occur subtly within the legislature itself? Well, I frankly think a little of both and in just in the right amounts to create a chemistry which this state had not seen since the first term of Sid McMath.

An entire book would be needed to explain what has happened in Arkansas politics in the past 16 years, but there has been a revolution.

The state legislature was accused of being a rubber stamp during the Faubus years. There was little hot debate on the floor because almost every piece of significant legislation had already been agreed upon in advance by the Governor and the

Desegregation Bill Debated in Senate

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration-approved bill providing $1.5 billion to aid school integration reached the debate stage in the Senate today with Southerners planning an attack on overall federal desegregation practices.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the debate probably will run several days, but some of the measure's sponsors estimated it might be on the floor a month.

In the end, however, the sponsors expect the Senate to pass the measure substantially in the form in which it emerged from an education subcommittee.

That panel largely rewrote President Nixon's original proposal, but won an endorsement of the new version from the administration.

In the revising, the administration agreed to accept strict safeguards on how local school districts spend the money, and a requirement that the funds be used to develop quality, integrated schools and not just to help with desegregation problems.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., declaring the government pays little attention to Northern school segregation said he will re-offer an amendment to require a uniform national desegregation policy.

The same rider was adopted 56 to 36 last year, but was heavily watered down in a Senate-House conference.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., is preparing amendments attacking present federal policies he says require busing and deny freedom of school choice to parents.

McGovern, also said Hoover sought to discourage FBI personnel from flying TWA and, when some FBI men were assigned to help implement the sky marshal program, "Mr. Hoover sought to prevent any service by FBI personnel on TWA flights."

"Despite Mr. Nixon's words of last weekend," McGovern said, "I cannot believe that he can any longer with a straight face profess his confidence in Mr. Hoover."

The President said last Friday recent criticisms of Hoover were "unfair and malicious" and added the FBI director was "taking a bad rap on a lot of things and he doesn't deserve it."

Leaders of the House and Senate. These were the days of and following the 1957 Central High School crisis which caused the Arkansas legislature to draw into sort of a secretive body to spare the public any overt controversy.

When Faubus left office many legislators were so sensitive about the charge of "rubber stamp" that they pushed their colleagues to exert more independence. This mood also coincided with the attempt by Governor Rockefeller to build a two-party system, in which Rockefeller-endorsed candidates ran against many of the legislators who were later asked to endorse Rockefeller administration proposals.

Many people have the opinion that not much was accomplished by the legislature during the Rockefeller years. This is simply not the case at all—it was just that there was so much open opposition and friction between the "old guard" members and the Republican administration.

The legislature, under Rockefeller, passed major tax increases, the first minimum wage law, the Constitutional Convention, the Freedom of Information Law and the creation of the Department of Administration. I also credit the by another possible Democratic presidential candidate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

GOP National Chairman Robert J. Dole, speaking to a Republican governor's conference in Williamsburg, Va., accused Muskie of employing the tactics of McCarthyism against the veteran FBI chief.

Dole, while acknowledging in part the Maine senator's claim that FBI agents went on surveillance missions to some Earth Day activities a year ago, defended it as proper because "certain radical revolutionary individuals were expected to attend."

He accused the Democrats of attempting to depict the FBI as "an American version of the Gestapo" in a "concentrated effort to destroy public confidence in law enforcement."

Dole's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery today but released Sunday.

McGovern, the only announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, told a Lockport, Ill., audience Hoover tried to destroy the career of a Trans World Airlines pilot after the pilot publicly criticized FBI handling of a hijack attempt.

He quoted TWA Capt. Donald J. Cook, pilot of an airliner taken over last November and flown to Rome, as saying "The FBI plan was a prescription for getting the entire crew killed and the plane destroyed."

Cook's airliner was on the ground at Kennedy airport in New York when agents staged what McGovern said was "a wild-west type FBI raid" trying to stop the hijacking.

"In retribution for Capt. Cook's criticism of the FBI, Mr. Hoover informed TWA that Capt. Cook had experienced some personal difficulty in the Air Force prior to his employment with TWA," McGovern said. "It is clear that Mr. Hoover was trying to destroy the career of Capt. Cook."

McGovern, also said Hoover sought to discourage FBI personnel from flying TWA and, when some FBI men were assigned to help implement the sky marshal program, "Mr. Hoover sought to prevent any service by FBI personnel on TWA flights."

"Despite Mr. Nixon's words of last weekend," McGovern said, "I cannot believe that he can any longer with a straight face profess his confidence in Mr. Hoover."

The President said last Friday recent criticisms of Hoover were "unfair and malicious" and added the FBI director was "taking a bad rap on a lot of things and he doesn't deserve it."

High Israeli Official in Surprise Visit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israeli Deputy Premier Yigal Alon left today for a surprise visit to Washington to discuss the Israeli government's ideas for a partial settlement with Egypt.

Alon is scheduled for a two-week visit to Canada, but a spokesman said he left a day early "so he could spend a few hours in Washington."

It was not known if he was carrying a message from Premier Golda Meir to President Nixon. Washington has reportedly been pressing the Israelis to present a plan for partial agreement that could result in the reopening of the Suez Canal.

Alon expressed regret Sunday at the formation of the Egyptian-Libyan-Syrian federation, but Defense Minister Moshe Dayan cautioned against despair and said he did not regard the federation as "a radical change" in the Arab world.

Man Stands Surrounded by Garbage

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer

Man, the endangered species, stands alone today in the prime building of the Atlanta, Ga., zoo. He is surrounded by garbage.

In New York, workers spilled out of skyscrapers to discover 15 blocks of normally congested Madison Avenue devoid of autos as scientists measured the level of atmospheric contaminants.

Both are Earth Week demonstrations designed to point at the many ways in which man poisons his own environment. Students in Des Moines, Iowa, hoped to collect 80 tons of waste paper Saturday to kick off Earth Week. By Sunday, they had gathered over 200 tons.

A weekend fund-raising rally in Hartford, Conn., collected an estimated $15,000 for the Connecticut Earth Action Group. The rally was described by a policeman as the "happiest, cleanest and best" he had ever seen.

The Atlanta display was among the most dramatic. A live man sits by himself among piles of trash in the building otherwise occupied by apes and other primates.

Curator Vernon Kisting said the man-surrounded-by-garbage demonstration is an effort to dramatize the danger man and other animals face because of garbage and pollution.

The teach-ins, seminars and demonstrations will take place throughout the nation's second annual Earth Week in hopes of emphasizing ways each individual can contribute to a cleaner, greener, healthier planet.

Legislature Adjourns Sine Die

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 68th Arkansas General Assembly formally adjourned sine die at 12:15 p.m. today.

Adjournment came with Senate approval of a resolution the House approved minutes earlier.

As a formality, the House also approved a sine die adjournment that had been voted on earlier in the Senate. The House action took place at 12:19 p.m.

House Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs turned the House clock back four minutes to 12:15 p.m. with the House vote on the Senate resolution.

Seventeen members in each house attended the adjournment following a two-week recess.

Nixon Lashes Welfare System That Pays Men Who Are Able to Work

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — President Nixon said today the United States cannot tolerate a welfare system "under which working people can be made to feel like fools by those who will not work."

"It is incredible that we have allowed a system of laws under which one person can be penalized for doing an honest day's work and another person can be rewarded for doing nothing," Nixon said in a speech prepared for the Republican Governors Conference.

The President denounced the current welfare system as "a monumental failure," and urged support for his own family assistance proposal, before Congress again after failing to win passage last year. Nixon said under the current system "the person on welfare can often have a higher income than his neighbor who holds a low-paying job."

"Tragically, these situations often exist in the same neighborhood, side by side in the same apartment houses—and the effect is corrosive," Nixon said. "It creates bitterness on the part of the worker. In the end, I suspect, it causes resignation—and we end up with another person on welfare...."

"The fact is that the welfare establishment and system in the United States is a monumental failure. It makes the taxpayer furious. It makes the welfare recipient bitter, and it inflicts the distillation of all this anger and bitterness to the children who will inherit this land. It is a disgrace to the American spirit."

Nixon said he does not think any job is "menial" if it puts bread on the table, "provides for your children and lets you look every one else in the eye."

He said scrubbing floors or emptying bedpans is not enjoyable work but there is as much dignity in it as any job to be done in this country "including my own."

U.S. Bombers Hit Enemy Positions

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese positions inside the A Shau valley today for the second successive day in support of an allied operation that apparently hasn't gotten off the ground.

Both President Nguyen Van Thieu and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, announced the operation Saturday, and Abrams said South Vietnamese troops were in the A Shau, giving the impression that they had moved into the 30-mile-long valley in force.

But field reports today said only reconnaissance troops were operating inside the valley on the Laotian border, and the major force would move in later this week.

The announcements by Thieu and Abrams raised the possibility that the U.S. Command and the South Vietnamese government were giving out misleading information in an attempt to confuse the North Vietnamese. But Abrams' chief spokesman, Col. Robert W. Leonard, said he considered questions along this line "im-pertinent" and added: "We have never used the press to cause speculation."

South Vietnamese military headquarters turned aside all questions about the operation. A spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said he would not disclose any details until there was significant contact with the enemy.

The forward command posts of the South Vietnamese task force and elements of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division have been set up just to the south of Quang Tri City.

U.S. officers in the field said troops from the 101st would conduct offensive operations once the operation gets going. About 2,000 American ground troops and 10,000 South Vietnamese are committed "on paper," officers said, but there are several possibilities, including a smaller operation, or a larger one extending into Laos, depending on what the reconnaissance forces find.

The South Vietnamese forces include two regiments from the 1st Infantry Division and two brigades of marines, all of whom took part in the invasion of Laos in February and March.

Teachers Ask Contracts for 8 Months

Classroom teachers of Hope plan to ask the District 1-A School Board tonight to cut their teacher contracts to eight months because of a shortage of revenues.

However, in announcing its intentions to make the request the 116-member Hope Education Association, headed by Mrs. Marion Robertson, indicated in the resolution that the teacher's might be willing to work an extra month without pay providing a monetary increase in local support for schools is assured.

Arch W. Ford, State Education Commissioner, said Sunday that if the Hope school went to an eight month term the district's accreditation would be seriously endangered.

Ford pointed out that the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools requires a 175-day school year to be classified Class A preferred school. In Arkansas a district must have at least 172 school days.

The resolution met unanimous approval of the 96 teachers present. Twenty were absent.

The resolution follows: Whereas the public schools of Hope, Arkansas, are already in a state of fiscal deterioration;

Whereas the teachers' salaries in Hope are significantly below the state average;

Whereas the per pupil expenditure in Hope is significantly below the state average;

Whereas the increase in state funds (operating and salary) for 1971-72 is insufficient to halt the fiscal erosion of the public schools of Hope;

Whereas the school district is facing a $36,509 deficit in the operating fund for only eight months of school in 1971-72;

Whereas the quality of education has been severely affected by the lack of funds;

Whereas the patrons of the Hope School District have twice failed to increase the local millage, indicating that the public is not aware of and-or concerned about the educational needs of the students in the Hope schools;

Whereas the Hope schools are in jeopardy of losing their North Central Association ratings;

Whereas the goal of Hope Education Association is to increase local support for the schools;

Whereas the ultimate damage is done to the individual student and to the community as a whole;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Hope Education Association requests that the Hope Board of Education issue contracts for an eight-month term of school for 1971-72; provided that said contracts shall include a clause requiring teachers to work an additional month without further compensation if and only if there is an increase in local support for the schools (at least 25 per cent above current local funds) in the form of an increased local millage and-or reassessment by April 10, 1972, and sufficient contributions to finish the year.

And, be it further resolved that there be no reduction in instructional staff.

Be it further resolved that the Hope Education Association may consider delaying the signing of contracts until there is further clarification of the financial status of the Hope Public Schools, including the above requests;

Be it further resolved that the Hope Education Association consider requesting the AEA and NEA PR and R Commission to investigate the financial status of the Hope Public Schools.

Be it further resolved that the Hope Education Association consider these studies in determining any future action.

Whereas the ultimate damage is done to the individual student and to the community as a whole;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Hope Education Association requests that the Hope Board of Education issue contracts for an eight-month term of school for 1971-72; provided that said contracts shall include a clause requiring teachers to work an additional month without further compensation if and only if there is an increase in local support for the schools (at least 25 per cent above current local funds) in the form of an increased local millage and-or reassessment by April 10, 1972, and sufficient contributions to finish the year.

And, be it further resolved that there be no reduction in instructional staff.

Be it further resolved that the Hope Education Association may consider delaying the signing of contracts until there is further clarification of the financial status of the Hope Public Schools, including the above requests;

Conviction of Nashville Man Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today the second-degree murder conviction of Cloys A. Thomas of Nashville.

Thomas was charged in the Jan. 16, 1970 death of his wife, Billie June Thomas, who died from a .22-caliber bullet fired at close range through her heart while in the bedroom of their trailer home.

Thomas contended his wife accidentally shot herself while he was in another room but he panicked and hid her body in a wooded area.

Thomas' appeal contended his conviction was contrary to the evidence, but the Supreme Court said that the jury was lenient in assessing a penalty of 10 years imprisonment.

The high court also affirmed the finding of Miller County Chancellor Royce Weisenberger that most of the property of Four States Memorial Hospital at Texarkana was exempt from taxes.

The hospital had filed suit after being taxed in 1969. The chancellor found that two buildings were not exempt from taxes because income from them was not used exclusively for public charity, but all other property of the hospital qualified for the exemption.

County Judge C. R. Burgess of Miller County and then-tax assessor Ed Malcolm had contended that the hospital's case should be dismissed on grounds that it had failed to show that its buildings, grounds and materials were used exclusively for public charity.

The Supreme Court also affirmed Garland County Chancellor James W. Chestnut in his decision to grant a summary judgment in favor of Rose Oil Co. of Pine Bluff.

Rose had been the subject of a suit filed by Energy Oil Co. under the Unfair Practices Act to prohibit Rose from retailing gasoline at less than cost.

The Supreme Court said in its decision that the abridgement of the trial record was not sufficient to give the justices the opportunity to "fairly understand the issues" and the chancellor's ruling would therefore be upheld.

The Supreme Court also agreed with Jefferson County Circuit Court Judge Henry W. Smith of Pine Bluff that the death of Jesse K. Willis, the late police chief of Dumas, was not such that workmen's compensation benefits were merited.

Willis was killed July 22, 1968, along with his wife, when their automobile was involved in a collision on U.S. 65 in Jefferson County while they were driving to Pine Bluff.

Mayor Billy Free of Dumas had testified that Chief Willis regularly went to Pine Bluff where the chief owned a house and that on July 22 Willis had been asked to take a warrant to the Jefferson County sheriff.

However, the warrant was not found in Willis' car and has not been discovered since the collision and, the high court said, there is no evidence that Willis was going to Pine Bluff to deliver the warrant for service.

stitutional amendment halfway to ratification could lower the voting age to 18 in all elections.

In addition to the President's speech and an appearance by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP state-house executives scheduled sessions today on drugs and education and Tuesday on the 18-year-old vote.

Underlining the governors' concern for picking up a major share of the new, young voters is the fact that they are only 21 GOP state executives, the lowest number to control state-houses in six years.

Current political issues also were on the minds of the delegates and the administration officials attending. Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas and the GOP national chairman told the governors recent Democratic attacks on the FBI are politically inspired and irresponsible.

In a speech prepared for delivery today but released Sunday, Dole pointed to Edmund S. Muskie, the undisciplined but widely considered frontrunner for the Democratic presidential nomination, and charged the Maine senator with "a deliberate effort to turn the FBI in the eyes of the American people into an American version of the Gestapo."

Marshal Is Listed as Critical

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Curtis Robertson, 33, the Bradford (White County) deputy city marshal, was listed in critical condition here Sunday night following an apparent arson attempt.

State Trooper Ronny Burke said that Robertson was burned by gasoline Sunday morning as he attempted to set fire to a house owned by Elmer Franks at Possum Grape (Jackson County).

Franks, who was not at home during the incident, is being held in the Jackson County jail on charges of being an accessory to the fact. Bond has been set at $2,500.

Burke said that an early report that Robertson had been beaten and burned by a group of men was erroneous. He said Robertson told that story to officials at the Bradford Clinic before he was transferred to the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

After being burned, Burke said, Robertson drove to the clinic in his pickup truck nounced Saturday and accusing it of "deplorable and bellicose declarations," Allon said Egypt was making a "big mistake" in not negotiating new borders with Israel.

HIGH ISRAELI

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt announced formation of the federation at the conclusion of a meet with leaders of the other two Arab nations. Sadat said the three countries agreed "there will be no negotiations or peace with Israel, not one inch of Arab land is to be given up" and they would not bargain over the rights of the Palestine refugees.

A partial Middle East peace settlement involving a reopening of the waterway as a preliminary to an eventual full-scale peace agreement is currently under discussion in Egypt and Israel. Public statements by leaders of both nations indicate a major obstacle is the question of how far Israeli troops would withdraw from the canal and whether they would be replaced along the east bank by Egyptian forces.

Teachers in Newark Back on the Job

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Most of the city's public schools resumed normal operations today, but about 100 teachers who took part in the 11-week strike were barred from classrooms at nine schools, most of them in the predominantly black Central Ward.

The teachers were barred by principals or by angry citizens who clustered about the schools and told the former strikers they were not welcome.

No violence was reported, but police were called to two schools in the Central Ward.

An emergency meeting between the board of education and the union was scheduled in an effort to resolve the latest difficulty.

Meanwhile, most of the city's 80,000 students and 4,200 teachers were back in school.

During the walkout, only half the 4,200 teachers remained on the job.

The strike aroused racial animosities, which Mayor Kenneth Gibson had said were creating tensions similar to those in Newark before the 1967 summer riots that left 26 persons dead.

The Newark Teachers Union and Board of Education both voted Sunday to accept a compromise plan offered by Gibson.

It provides a three-member panel for binding arbitration of grievances, reinstatement of 347 teachers suspended for strike activities, and a compromise calling for teachers to perform certain nonprofessional chores such as hallway monitoring while they may "voluntarily accept" others.

Nonprofessional duties had become a crucial issue. The union claimed teachers were not required to do them, while the five-member black and Puerto Rican majority on the school board charged that teachers unwilling to perform them were "insensitive to the needs of black

WILL AFFAIR SAVE THIS MARRIAGE?

Dear Helen:
This sounds crazy. Maybe I am.

I want my husband to have an affair!

Maybe if he had an affair which proved he is alive, our marriage would stop being so unbelievably dull. We don't fight. Don't even argue. We just exist.

Maybe if I knew someone else wanted my husband, I might want him again myself, enough to stop drifting and fight for him. As it is, I wake in the morning wishing I wouldn't have to face the day. I go through the deadly routine, knowing that at night I'll see him solemnly chewing across

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Once Upon a Wheel," an ABC special Sunday, understood to describe the fascination of automobile racing. The hour used every trick in the producers' and film editors' book and pretty well succeeded in its aim. Sometimes the viewer could almost smell gasoline and exhaust fumes.

Paul Newman, who apparently is hooked on the sport, was the narrator—and participant in one race.

"Next to ladies," he declared, "a race car has to be the most exotic thing around." One short vignette told a lot: It was the story of Butch, a married man with four children working for $50 a week in a car junkyard and driving weekends in demolition derbies. Dreaming of someday becoming a winner.

The inevitable shots of cars spinning, crashing and exploding on tracks around the country were handled like a ballet sequence with background music. There was a dream-like sequence, using slow motion, to show the frantic activity in changing a tire in midrace.

Most of the film was accompanied by rock songs. The music started well, but after a time became rather obtrusive and the beat irksome. Altogether, however, it was an unusual and attention-holding effort.

Network specials tend to come in pairs since they often are slipped into two-hour film spots. Sunday's second was "Diana"—singer Diana Ross.

The singing by Miss Ross and the Jackson Five was great: the sets were handsome; Miss Ross' clothes were stunning. The comedy was terrible, even with the help of Bill Cosby and Danny Thomas.

Cosby even intended a new character. Fat Alberta-Miss Ross padded to enormous dimensions. The sequence was dull and Fat Alberta should be retired immediately. Thomas tried to teach Diana to tell a joke. Neither his example nor her response was amusing.

The whole thing added up to another lavish but hardly memorable variety hour.

CBS will replace Jackie Gleason show reruns in late May with a summer series of skating shows called "Ice Palace."

the dinner table, silently watching TV, making the same routine remarks about the weather (if he says anything at all).

It isn't a "bad" marriage, Helen. It's a nothing marriage. Our children have their own lives. I'm sure we bore them too.

There was a time when I tried getting us out of the doldrums but I could never break through his "joylessness." Now I'm as constantly depressed as he seems. I can't change him. Maybe another woman can—and then he might become real to me too.

I couldn't leave him. It would be cruel, and all my life I'd feel guilty for "abandoning" a man who depends on me. . . who perhaps couldn't find anyone else. He turns people off, so we're both isolated. And I'm so trapped. . .

I remember the time when I had the capacity to laugh and enjoy. Must I resign myself forever to be one of the — STANDING UP DEAD

Dear S.U.D.:

When you say, "I wish my husband would have an affair," don't you mean, "I want him to give me an excuse"? A woman can't leave a good, dull, dependent man without crushing guilt pangs, but she could temporarily stray or even pull all stakes, if he offered her a reason.

Of course, there's your EX-PRESSED hope that if he turned on to life, he might also turn YOU on, but I read between the lines of your long letter that you'd rather try it with someone else.

Considering your joyless existence, I can't blame you, but look: Maybe your husband is as miserably bored as you are. Perhaps he, too, is leading a life of quiet desperation, and he can't find the words to express himself—or the courage to toss the first rock in stagnant waters.

You've both been "standing up dead" too long. For heavens sake, say IT, even though you start a fight. At least you'll discover this way whether things can be changed. I somehow think they can—when you both learn to probe beneath the surface and really understand what goes on in the other's mind and heart. —H.

Dear Helen:

Why is it that if a man dates a woman ten years younger, nothing is said? Some men even go back 15 and 20 years—and get congratulated for their sex appeal.

But just reverse this situation and let a woman date a man 10 years her junior: Wow, the talk!

I've found a wonderful guy of 26, but I'm 36. I look, act and think young, while he is very mature. He's not after my money—I haven't any, and he hasn't got a mama complex. We simply love and enjoy each other. Why am I made to feel like a "silly cradle snatcher" by my so-called friends? —

TALKED ABOUT

Dear T.A.:

Don't be so thin-skinned. Age differences are only important to gossips and who needs THEM as friends? —H.

Cepeda Gets Braves Past the Phillies

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hitting against Woody Fryman has been no picnic for Orlando Cepeda.

But Sunday it was a feast.

The Atlanta first baseman fed on his long-time nemesis for five hits, including the game winning home run in the 10th inning that carried the Braves past the Phillies 5-4.

"I never hit him so good," said Cepeda. "But it was one of those days where everything falls in and nobody gets you out."

The "nobody" in this case was Fryman, who said he threw the gopher pitch just about where he wanted.

"We tried to jaim him," said Fryman, "it was off the plate good. But he just got in front of it."

It was just about where Cepeda wanted it, too. "An inside fast ball—about belt high."

The bundle of hits made it a whole of a three-game series at Veterans Stadium for Cepeda, who has been known to voice his displeasure while playing in Philadelphia.

Cepeda, who once said he didn't like hitting at the Phillies' old park, Connie Mack Stadium, because official scorers were not fair to him, hit a triple in Friday night's opener and a single and home run Saturday.

The San Francisco Giants continued to bomb the Chicago Cubs, taking a doubleheader 5-1 and 8-1 to complete a sweep of their four-game series. In other National League games, the Montreal Expos topped off a three-game sweep of Cincinnati's defending champions with a 3-2, 5-3 double triumph; Houston tripped Los Angeles 9-6; St. Louis turned back San Diego 4-2 and the New York Mets and Pittsburgh Pirates split a pair. New York won the first 5-2 and Pittsburgh, the second, 2-1.

In the American League, Boston beat Detroit 1-0; Baltimore crushed the New York Yankees 11-6; California clipped Minnesota 5-4; Oakland tripped the Chicago White Sox 11-2 and 6-1; Washington defeated Cleveland 4-0 in the opener of a twin bill and Cleveland took the second, 1-0 and Kansas City and Milwaukee split their doubleheader—Kansas City winning the first, 2-1 and Milwaukee the nightcap, 3-2 in 13 innings.

After an early productive day of four hits in four at-bats and two runs knocked in, Cepeda wasn't thinking of hitting a home run in the 10th.

"Oh, no," said the broad-shouldered slugger, "I just tried to get my bat on the ball."

Cepeda's fourth hit, a run-scoring single in the seventh inning, gave the Braves a 4-3 lead. But the Phillies tied it in the ninth on Terry Harmon's bases-loaded sacrifice fly.

Pinch-hitter Frank Johnson struck a three-run double and Bobby Bonds delivered a two-run homer in the first game, and rookie catcher Fran Healy drove in four runs with a homer and single in the second in the San Francisco sweep.

The Cubs led 1-0 in the opener when the Giants mounted their game-winning rally in the fourth inning against Milt Pappas. In the first inning of the second game, the Giants rocked rookie Bill Bonham for four runs, including Healy's two-run single. Healy then crashed a two-run homer in the fourth.

Clyde Mashore's bases-loaded, pinch-hit single in the seventh inning knocked in two

Boston Nips Tigers by Single Run

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Carl Yastrzemski and Dean Chance have hit it off badly in their first 1971 meeting and neither is turning the other cheek. Yastrzemski ruined a strong pitching effort by Chance with a fourth inning home run Sunday and Sonny Siebert made it stand up with a five-hitper as the Boston Red Sox nipped the Detroit Tigers, 1-0.

But the Boston slugger wasn't any happier than Chance afterward—because of an inside pitch that almost hit him on his next trip to the plate following the decisive homer.

"He didn't come close to hitting anybody else the whole game," said the seething Yastrzemski. "Then he throws the ball at my feet. He has no damn guts."

"If I'm going to throw at a guy, I'll hit him," countered Chance.

The post-game recriminations overshadowed a brilliant duel between Siebert, who cattered five singles, and Chance, who yielded just three hits before going out for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Cleveland's Steve Dunning topped both, however, with a 1-0 one-hit victory over Washington after the Senators took the double-header opener 4-0 behind Danny McLain's three-hitter.

Elsewhere in the American League, California edged Minnesota, 5-4, Baltimore whipped the New York Yankees, 11-6, Oakland swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 11-2 and 6-1, and Kansas City split a pair with Milwaukee, winning 2-1 before bowing 3-2 in 13 innings.

In National League play, Montreal stunned Cincinnati twice 3-2 and 5-3, San Francisco swept the Chicago Cubs, 5-1 and 6-1, Pittsburgh shaded the New York Mets, 2-1 after a 5-2 first-game setback, Atlanta nudged Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 innings and St. Louis downed San Diego, 4-2.

Chance, acquired by Detroit from the Mets just before the start of the season, gave up two harmless singles until Yastrzemski led off the fourth with a blast into the lower right field seats for his second homer of the season.

Siebert, who has given up only one earned run thus far, was in command all the way, striking out five—including dangerous Willie Horton and Gates Brown to end the game.

Dunning, beginning his first full year with Cleveland, limited the Senators to a second-inning single by Tom McCraw and five walks in earning the Indians a split. He struck out seven while winning his first 1971 decision.

Ted Uhlaender's run-scoring bloop single off Casey Cox broke the scoreless deadlock in the sixth.

McLain mowed down the Indians in the opener on the way to his second victory against one loss while Washington capitalized on an error by Ken Harrelson and the wildness of Sam McDowell, 0-2, to score three runs in the fourth.

Alex Johnson drilled a two-run homer in the third inning and doubled to ignite a two-run ninth, leading the Angels past the Twins to their seventh straight victory. It was the sixth loss in a row for the AL's 1970 West Division champs.

Baltimore, off to a blazing start in defense of its East Division crown, scored six runs in the second inning—three of them on a single by Paul Blair—and held off the Yanks. Don Buford homered for the Orioles, who have won eight of 10 starts.

Sal Bando poled a tie-breaking homer in the seventh and a two-run double in the eighth as the A's completed their sweep at Chicago after riddling the White Sox in the opener behind a 17-hit assault and the six-hit pitching of Vida Blue.

The White Sox have lost nine of 10 after winning their first three starts.

Weightlifter Sets Record

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet weightlifter Vasily Alexeyev set a world record in the super heavyweight division Sunday with a jerk of 508 pounds, Tass reported today.

The Soviet news agency said Alexeyev bettered his own previous record by 1.1 pounds.

Ali Got 30 Minutes to Plead Case

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court gave former heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali 30 minutes today to tell why he should be free to fight in a country he says his God won't let him fight for.

It is Ali's last chance to avoid a five-year prison sentence for refusing to be drafted nearly four years ago.

Lawyers for Ali took their half of the hour hearing to argue that their client should be draft exempt on religious grounds. A ruling is expected before the court adjourns in June.

Ali, who now lives in Philadelphia, was expected at the hearing but was not to testify.

Ali's lawyers insist the former heavyweight champion, who lost a bid to regain his crown last month to Joe Frazier, was prohibited by his Muslim religion from fighting not only in Vietnam but in any conflict except a Holy War declared by Allah himself.

The boxer has been quoted as saying publicly he had no quarrel with the Viet Cong and is opposed to fighting in "white men's wars."

Ali's appeal is based to a large degree on a 1955 Supreme Court ruling that a Jehovah's Witness was entitled to conscientious objector status even though he was not opposed to a "theocratic war" commanded by Jehovah.

Before today's hearing the government answered Ali's claim by arguing he "did not have a conscientious scruple to participation in all wars, but only to certain wars depending upon particular circumstances."

The black boxer was reigning heavyweight champion when he refused to take the traditional step forward April 28, 1967, at the Houston Armed Forces Induction Center.

Convicted in June of that year by an all-white jury of six men and six women, Ali was sentenced on June 20, 1967.

He has remained free under $5,000 bond while his lawyers threaded the long and complicated paths of appeal, re-hearing and appeals again.

After his conviction, Ali was stripped of the boxing title he won from Sonny Liston. He also was denied a license by most state boxing commissions and the federal courts refused to let him fight outside the country.

Bleachers Fall, 102 Persons Hurt

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — At least 102 persons were injured Saturday when a 20-tier section of bleachers collapsed at a car race track near this North Carolina coastal town.

With only a slight cracking sound as a warning, horror-stricken race fans found themselves entangled in the splintered remains of the wooden bleachers.

At least 13 persons were admitted to area hospitals, including two or three with broken backs and others with compound fractures, dislocations, lacerations and puncture wounds.

The assistant administrator of New Hanover Memorial Hospital, Frank Pritchett, said nurses and doctors were kept busy until 3 a.m. Sunday treating the injured.

HHS Baseball Team Takes Opening Game

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Starting off on the right track, the Hope Bobcat baseball team took an early lead and coasted on in for their first victory of the year against no losses, with an 8-0 win.

Three consecutive hits by the Bobcats opened the ballgame up and a double by Bill Rowland sent the third run across the plate with two outs. However, Hope soon took the field.

During the next two innings only Hope could get one run as the score stood at 4-0, Bobcats. At the top of the fourth inning, Lynn Norton singled, and Sidney Walker walked. Two singles and a double then accounted for three more runs for a 7-0 lead before the inning ended.

A run in the top of the fifth gave Hope their final run, while Blevins greatest threat came in the sixth inning when Tommy Webb singled and then reached to the third base without any outs, but was stranded.

Rice First to Complete Spring Drills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Rice Owls became the first Southwest Conference school to complete spring football drills last Saturday and now new head coach Bill Peterson and staff must handle and decide what it all meant.

One problem facing the Owls is the selection of a quarterback to direct Peterson's favored pro-style offense. Peterson's teams at Florida State were noted for their passing but he's yet to find a clear-cut favorite for the job at Rice.

Bruce Gadd ended spring drills as the starting quarterback, but last week Peterson moved Phillip Wood back to quarterback from defensive back, possibly signaling additional changes in the Owl attack.

While the Owls evaluate their spring drills, the rest of the SWC continues on-the-field work. Defending champion Texas is in the countdown stages for Saturday's spring finale.

Texas Tech has two more weeks left of spring drills and Coach Jim Carlen says most of the heavy work now will be done by the second and third teams.

Carlen was pleased with the work of his first offensive and defensive teams Saturday in a controlled scrimmage.

"I imagine we'll spend the rest of the time polishing the first team and probably won't do much hitting with them anymore," Carlen said. "Most of our heavy work will be with our second and third units the rest of the way."

Some of the standout performances in scrimmages around the conference Saturday included:

— Rice quarterback turned fullback Stahle Vincent rushed 132 yards on 20 carries and scored one touchdown in Rice's spring wrapup.

— Quarterback Gary Hammond, T. J. Hutchinson and Louie Scott each scored twice in SMU's drill.

— Joe Ferguson, the heir to Bill Montgomery's quarterback job at Arkansas, completed 15 of 23 passes for 283 yards and one touchdown.

— Quarterback Steve Judy scored two touchdowns and sophomore Larry Harris rushed 144 yards on 21 carries in TCU's spring scrimmage.

— Glenn Gaspard returned an interception 65 yards for a touchdown to highlight Texas' drill.

Hog Baseball Team Sweeps Doubleheader

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks swept a baseball doubleheader over Pittsburgh, Kan., State 6-0 and 11-1 Saturday afternoon.

Right-hander Terry Verhage threw a four-hit shutout in the first game. He struck out 11. Southpaw Bill Wyles had a two-hitter in the second game.

Stan Lay slammed a double in the second game for his 13th extra-base hit of the season, an Arkansas school record.

All-Star Coach Selected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Don Riggs of Jonesboro and Bobby Hannon of Hot Springs have been named as coaches in the High School All-Star football game to be played Aug. 7 at Little Rock.

Hannon, who guided Hot Springs to the Class AAA-West title and an unbeaten season, will be head coach of the West All-Stars. Riggs, whose Jonesboro team won the Class AAA-East championship, will coach the East All-Stars.

John Wyatt Jr., basketball coach at County Line, will coach the West team in the All-Star basketball game, also set for Aug. 7. Jim Haney of Salem will head the East coaching staff.

Scaife Signs With State

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Don Scaife, who led Helena to the finals of the Class AAA state basketball tournament, has accepted a basketball grant in aid to Arkansas State University.

Scaife, a 6-2 guard, was named most valuable player in the state tournament last month. He scored 108 points in four tournament games and averaged 25 points a game during the regular season.

Showdown for Knicks, Bullets

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain captured the battle of the seven-footers, but soaring "Captain Marvel" powered the Milwaukee Bucks to the Western Conference title Sunday in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Bucks, 116-98 winners over the Los Angeles Lakers, now will take on the Eastern Conference champions Wednesday night in the opening game of the best-of-seven championship series. The game will be televised nationally on ABC-TV.

Milwaukee's opponent will be the winner of tonight's battle between the New York Knicks and the Baltimore Bullets.

The Bullets deadlocked their semifinal series against the Knicks with a 113-96 victory Sunday, forcing a seventh game in New York tonight.

In the American Basketball Association playoffs, Kentucky meets Virginia in the third game of their semifinal playoff which is tied at 1-1. Utah, leading 2-0, plays Indiana in the third game of their series Tuesday.

"Captain Marvel" is Greg Smith, the Bucks' 6-foot-5 forward who is considered long on defense but short on offense. Against the Lakers Sunday, he paced the Bucks with 22 points, leading Milwaukee's well-balanced scoring attack.

While 7-2 Alcindor and 7-1 Chamberlain battled, Smith sneaked in time and again for crucial rebounds or vital points. Because of foul trouble, he played only 23 minutes, less than one half of the game.

Chamberlain, the veteran Lake center, continued his sparkling play against Alcindor. The former Kansas All-American outscored the Bucks' center, 23-20, and blocked six shots while Alcindor slapped away three would-be baskets.

Four times, Chamberlain knocked away an Alcindor field goal attempt, same on Chamberlain's shots.

In the rebounding battle, Alcindor finished with 15 and Chamberlain 12.

With Chamberlain dominating play at both ends of the court, Los Angeles hung close until the half, when the Lakers trailed by only six points, 55-49.

Then, as has been their custom, the Bucks exploded in the final two periods to post their fourth victory of the series easily.

Bob Dandridge added 20 points to Milwaukee's total.

High for Los Angeles was Happy Hairston with 27.

With their first conference crown in hand, the Bucks immediately turned to their next goal, the NBA championship.

We want the Knicks," said Robertson. "We have something to prove. If we beat Baltimore, everyone will say the Knicks were the best team, they lost because of injuries."

Alcindor agreed. "We want to be the best," he said, "and we want to do it by beating the champions."

watched as 125 cars from 20 states competed for national championship points.

Ferguson's Team Wins Scrimmage

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback Joe Ferguson completed 15 of 23 passes for 283 yards and one touchdown Saturday in guiding the first team to a 34-27 victory over the second unit in a scrimmage that marked the close of the first week of spring football drills for the Arkansas Razorbacks.

Sophomore Clark Irwin returned an interception for 39 yards to give the first unit the winning touchdown.

Sophomore Dicky Morton was the leading rusher with 12 carries for 93 yards. Junior Jon Richardson carried 11 times for 73 yards and junior fullback Scott Binnion had 69 yards on 15 rushes.

Bill McClard kicked all five extra points attempted, but missed on field goal tries of 51 and 54 yards.

Irwin's touchdown run came off an interception of a Walter Nelson pass. Irwin also picked off a Ferguson pass and returned it 43 yards for an apparent touchdown, but the score was nullified by a clipping penalty.

The Razorbacks were to view their efforts on film today and practice Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Another full-scale scrimmage is scheduled for next Saturday.

The Kentucky Derby Is 12 Days Away

By BOBO COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The 97th Kentucky Derby, now just 12 days away, is likely to have its largest field in 20 years and could have the largest in the history of the game run for the American Beauty roses.

With just three major prep races remaining before the May 1 Derby, the best guess is that 19 3-year-olds will face the starter at Churchill Downs.

Next Thursday's Blue Grass Stakes, the race that has produced seven of the past nine Derby winners, now seems likely to be run in two divisions for the first time since 1951.

That was the year that the first division produced the Derby's fourth finisher, Phil D., and the second included the Derby place (Royal Mustang) and show (Ruhe) horses.

The winner in a Derby field of 20, however, was Count Turf who finished his preparations with the Wood Memorial in New York, a path that can't be taken this year.

With two divisions in the Blue Grass, each is likely to send four horses after the roses. Then you might expect four to arrive from New York, two from California and each of the prep races during Derby week at Louisville to produce two.

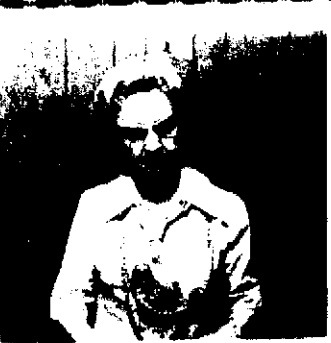

In addition, Mrs. Joe W. Brown's List is already on the grounds at Churchill Downs and trainer Alcee Richard has eyes on the Derby.

There also are a few trainers here and there who haven't declared themselves and one—like Bailey—who says he plans to start a maiden filly in America's most famous horse race. It wouldn't take many to surpass the record of 22 starters in 1928.

Neil Hellman's Good Behavior, unwittingly not made eligible for the Derby, where supplemental entries are not allowed, won Saturday's Wood Memorial at Aqueduct over seven Derby nominees, covering 1 1/4 miles in 1:49 4/5.

One of those, however, wasn't going in the Derby no matter how he fared in the Wood. Owner Peter Kissel said his Executioner most likely would wait for the Preakness.

The 8-5 favorite in the Wood,

Mrs. L.C. Kitchens invites you to a series of gospel meeting at Hope Church of Christ this week at 7:30 p.m. Bro. Carl Maples of Jamaica, West Indies, is the guest speaker.

Executioner finished third behind Calumet Farm's Eastern Fleet. Jim French, the much-traveled winner of the Santa Anita Derby, was fourth.

Behind them were Bold Reason, Sound Off, Bold And Able, Sit In The Corner and Bobby Dees Boy, only non-Derby eligibles in the field beside Good Behavior.

The turn of events insured the first year in the past 10 that a Wood winner won't be in the Derby.

Meantime, a continent away, Unconscious won the California Derby and trainer John Canty vowed: "We're going to Kentucky and if we face Jim French again we're going to beat him."

Jim French took a brief time out earlier in his Eastern campaign to fly to Santa Anita and whip the best the West had to offer, including Unconscious.

Petty Wants $1 Million, Then Slowdown

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Stock car racing great Richard Petty says he may slow down a bit after reaching the $1 million mark in prize money, but he grins when you mention it.

"Let's see now," he drawled after winning career victory No. 126 at North Wilkesboro Sunday. "They say a man doesn't reach his prime until he is 35. If you figure it that way, I'll probably be around another seven or eight years. A lot of money will be up for grabs and I'd like to be around to claim some of it."

Petty, taking the lead in the Gwyn Staley Memorial 250-miler shortly after the halfway point and going unchallenged the rest of the way, padded his 1971 earnings to $106,550 and he's within shouting distance of a career mark of $1 million.

The 33-year-old father of three, who lives modestly in the rural community of Randleman, N.C., has banked $935,438 during a driving career that started in 1958.

The only racing driver to earn more than $1 million in prize money is A.J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., who still is padding his mark. Foyt is one of only four drivers who have beat the handsome Petty in races this season, and he did it twice.

Sunday's 400-lap grand over the banked five-eighths of a mile North Wilkesboro Speedway drew a near capacity 15,000. They stood on their seats and cheered as Petty won his seventh victory in 13 starts this season and his seventh in 13 races on this scenic oval.

He was paid a modest $4,545 for his triumph.

"It really isn't the money in a race like this," Petty said. "It's the fact that you like to win any of them regardless of the money."

David Pearson came in second in a Ford, almost a mile to the rear. Third place went to Dick Brooks in a Dodge, fourth to Benny Parsons in a Ford, and fifth to Bobby Allison in a Dodge.

Colonels to Play Squires a 3rd Game

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Colonels take on the Virginia Squires here Monday night in the third game of final Eastern Division series of the American Basketball Association.

The Colonels won the opener 136-132 at Richmond last Thursday but fell to the Squires 122-122 Saturday in the second of the best-of-seven showdown.

Monday's game will be the first of two on the Colonels' home court with the fifth meeting again in Virginia.

Dan Issel, Kentucky's 6-foot-9 pivotman, is expected to be a key figure in the remaining games. Issel pumped in 46 points to lead the Colonels in the first meeting, then returned with 32 in the second game.

However, the Squires' unbalanced scoring attack and a near-perfect defense in the closing minutes accounted for the victory for Virginia.

Kentucky came out of the first period with a 39-32 lead and then, led by six points by Issel, the Colonels swept ahead 49-36 in the opening minutes of the second quarter.

Three extended scoring streaks by the Squires, however, put the Virginia squad into the lead for good.

Fresh Yankee Has Returned to Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fresh Yankee, harness racing's Horse of the Year in 1970, has returned to action and she has a brand new mark to shoot for—the fastest mile of the year clocked by Isle of Wight.

Fresh Yankee, bred by former baseball star Charley Keller, covered the mile in 2:05 and easily captured the Campbellville Stakes for trotting fillies and mares at Mohawk Raceway in Campbellville, Ontario, Saturday.

It was the first start this year for the eight-year-old mare owned by Duncan MacDonald of Sydney, Nova Scotia, and she returned $2.30 and $2.10. Show bets are not accepted at Ontario tracks. Aunt Penny was second and Lynden Candy third behind Fresh Yankee, winner of 20 of 29 races last year.

Isle of Wight, never clocked under two minutes before, broke the barrier with a 1:58 4/5—fastest mile of the year—copping the Pennsylvania Sires Stakes for Aged Pacers at the Meadows near Pittsburgh. The winner paid $4.50, $3.20 and $2.60, edging Lord Roger and Leander Lobell for the victory.

At Roosevelt Raceway in Westbury, N.Y., Rum Customer scored a half-length victory over Maida Million with Leroy N. third. The winner was timed in 2:01 1/5 and paid $4, $2.60 and $2.

Ashe Dashes Upset Hopes of Smith

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Arthur Ashe used his speed, precise shooting and confidence Sunday to dash the upset hopes of Stan Smith and capture the men's singles title in Charlotte's $25,000 open tennis tournament.

Ashe, of Richmond, Va., downed Smith 6-3, 6-2, to carry off $5,000 first prize money in the North Carolina National Bank Open. Smith, from Pasadena, Calif., double-faulted and knocked away three routine shots in the ninth game to drop the final set.

Christie Evert, a 16-year-old from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., drubbed Charlotte's Laura DuPont, 6-2, 6-0, to capture the women's singles title. The title, with all the women competing for it in amateur standing, carries no money.

Miss Evert also teamed with Sue Stap of Chicago to outlast Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., and Eliza Pande of Palo Alto, Calif., 6-1, 1-6, 6-3, for the women's doubles title.

Australian Tony Roche and Marty Riessen of Tucson, Ariz., claimed the men's doubles title with a 6-2, 6-2 victory over Ashe and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.

Roche and Riessen split $1,500 in prize money.

Ashe's singles victory was attributed to his tournament toughness, gained from a string of professional competitions. Smith, an Army private, is about two months out of basic training and has played only two tournaments in the last four months.

Boxing Waits Out Supreme Court Ruling

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The world Boxing Association says it will wait until after the U.S. Supreme Court rules on Muhammad Ali's refusal to be drafted before it decides whether to recognize him.

Ali has not been listed in the WBA heavyweight ratings since 1967 when he refused induction in the armed services. He is appealing the matter.

The WBA executive committee, in a two-day weekend session, also decided to continue its recognition of Vincente Paul Rondon of Venezuela as light-heavyweight champion, with Bob Foster ranked the No. 1 contender.

Ali has had three flights not sanctioned by the WBA since his case became tangled in the courts. The last was his loss to Joe Frazier.

If Ali wins his court battle, he is expected to be rated the top contender in the heavy-weight class by the WBA.

In Foster's case, he asked for a hearing before the committee, after the WBA stripped him of his crown last Decem-

AIC Names a Commissioner

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles M. Adcock, executive secretary of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference since 1962, has been named conference commissioner.

Under the change, Adcock will have broader responsibilities in the areas of eligibility, game officials, conference investigations and public relations.

Cliff Shaw, who became AIC commissioner in 1957 and has served the conference in advisory capacity since 1962, was elected commissioner emeritus by the AIC's faculty representatives. He will continue to serve in an advisory capacity.

12th Man at A&M Joins Baseball

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
The 12th man tradition at Texas A&M has extended into the coaching ranks and shifted to baseball.

The current personification of the original 12th man who came out of the stands to help the Aggie football team is Terry Logan, who until last Monday had been a 22-year-old coach of the Texas A&M junior varsity.

But unlike the original 12th man, who never actually got into the game, Logan was thrust into the middle of a crucial Southwest Conference baseball race last week.

When A&M head coach Tom Chandler was forced to the sidelines by a ruptured disc, Logan moved in as acting head coach until Chandler returns.

It appeared the move couldn't have come at a worse time. The Aggies were facing a crucial SWC 3-game series with Texas Tech, which could take the lead from the Aggies by sweeping the series.

But under Logan, the Aggies took a non-conference double-header from the University of Houston and then swept the series with Tech to remain firmly in the driver's seat in the SWC and they certainly didn't hurt their No. 4 ranking nationally by Collegiate Baseball magazine.

To make Logan's situation even more unusual, two of the players on the Tech team, Barry Hoffpauir and Doug Ault teamed with Logan in 1969 to help Panola Junior College win the national junior college championship.

"I didn't really feel any pressure until the seventh inning of the first game with Tech," said Logan, who also has crowded a summer of pro ball into his young career. "We needed a run and I had to decide to go with a pinch runner."

"I hope the emotion didn't show too much but it was there," he said. "It was a crucial series for both clubs. They could have taken the SWC lead if they swept the series."

"And I felt whoever won that first game would take the series, because we both were so charged up for the game."

As it turned out, the Aggies won all three games to increase their season mark to 29-3 and keep the SWC standard perfect at 12-0. They face TCU in Fort Worth this weekend before their showdown with perennial champion Texas in the final three-game series.

An outsider might expect some moment of apprehension for a coach no older than some of the players on his team. But nothing like that with Logan.

"All the seniors got together," Logan said, "and Dave (the Aggies' star outfielder Dave Elmendorf) came up and told me when we're in a tight situation, for me to make a decision and they would all follow it."

Logan said the fan support at the Tech series was "unbelievable."

"Dave got a standing ovation nearly everytime he came up," Logan said. "It was amazing. I've received several calls and one man told me after the series Saturday it was the best he'd seen and he's been watching Aggie baseball 46 years."

Chandler was to undergo surgery today and may be out of the hospital by Friday. He's hoping to be back in command in time for the Texas series, which could decide it all.

In the meantime, the Aggies are in the process of creating a new tradition.

They might call this one "The 10th man tradition."

Travelers Can't Hit, Lose Again

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Shreveport held the Arkansas Travelers to four single hits Sunday afternoon to win 5-0.

"Nobody ever figured out a way to win without scoring," said Jack Krol, Traveler manager. "Usually you'll have at least a couple of guys hitting the ball, but nobody's hitting for us right now.

"The way our hitting has been, I guess we've done well to win two games. But it's there. It'll come," he said.

Doug Howard hit a double to bring in the first run for Shreveport in the fourth inning, and from then on it was Shreveport all the way.

Righthander Steve Evans pitched for Arkansas. Dave Frost and Dan Keller pitched for the Captains.

The Travelers will play three games in Birmingham, Ala.

British Girl Wins Big Money

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — England's Ann Haydon Jones has broken Billie Jean King's lock on success in the women's professional tennis tour.

Miss Jones, a native of Birmingham, bagged the $9,000 first prize Sunday by defeating Miss King, Long Beach, Calif., 7-5, 6-4, in the final match of the $30,000 Caesar's Palace World Tennis Championships.

Miss King, who won $4,800 for second place, had won the pre-

Reese Takes a Job at State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bobby Reese, head basketball coach at Little Rock McClellan High School, has accepted a position as assistant basketball coach at Arkansas State University.

Reese succeeds LaVaughn Robertson, who resigned recently to take the head coaching job at Arkansas College at Batesville.

Impressions of Table Tennis Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some thoughts on Mao Tse-tung and other impressions of Communist China have been given by members of the American table tennis team after returning from their historic tour of mainland China.

Several wore Mao buttons and, during interviews with newsmen Sunday, commented on the prevalence of Mao's image. Jack Howard, the team's nonplaying captain, said he recommended reading "The Thoughts of Mao Tse-tung."

Judy Bochenki, 15, wore a Mao badge "as a sign of friendship" when she arrived home in Eugene, Ore. "Mao was everywhere, on posters, buttons, slogans and the little red book," she said. "I brought back five copies."

She found China "very, very different. They didn't have TV in hotels. They didn't even have radios. We never saw a boy and girl walking together. It's so completely different. We didn't realize it until we got there."

Olga Soltesz, 17, had similar thoughts in Orlando, Fla. "It's completely different from the United States. I thought Peking would be a miniature Chicago but there were no cars, only a few buses and everybody rode bicycles," she said.

"I hope the people of both countries can come together, because they are just as nice as any other human beings," she said. "The people are warm and were really friendly—there were no fake smiles."

Graham Steenhoven, 59, president of the U.S. Table Tennis Association, was asked in Detroit if he thought the Chinese has used the American team for propaganda purposes.

"No, not at all!" he said emphatically. "I'm sure what they wanted was in some way for us to be friends." He said the team had turned down an invitation to extend the tour another week because they had to return home now.

Steenhoven said he expects a Chinese team to visit the United States but is not sure when. "I expect them to communicate with me," he said.

Howard, the team captain, was one of several team members who arrived at Kennedy Airport in New York. At an airport news conference he displayed a copy of Mao's red book and recommended it to newsmen.

Tim Boggan, 40, of Merrick, N.Y., said the image of Mao was everywhere. "There were pictures of Mao in the bathrooms, hotels, restaurants; you just can't get away from him."

He was disturbed by posters that read, "Down with U.S. imperialist dogs." But, he added, "I didn't argue, I was there as a guest."

Glen Cowan, 19, summed up his impressions as simply fantastic, really fantastic. "Some have cited the long-haired youth's friendship with Chinese table tennis players in Japan as helping pave the way for the visit."

Goalie Thinks Game Was Won Early
By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP) — The record book will show the New York Rangers defeated the Chicago Black Hawks 2-1 in overtime Sunday night in the opening game of their Stanley Cup semifinal series.

But as far as goalie Ed Giacomin is concerned, the game was won in the opening minutes of play.

That was when Chicago's Pit Martin broke free and wheeled in five feet from the net. Martin let the puck fly and Giacomin had the first of several breakaway saves which were to lead the Rangers to victory.

"The key to the win was saving on the breakaways," said Giacomin. "When I stopped Martin in the first period I think it set the pattern for my play and gave me a big lift."

Chicago's only score came on a sloppy power play in the first period. Pat Stapleton shot from in front of the blue line and the puck bounced off Cliff Koroll and defenseman Jim Neilson to give the Hawks a 1-0 lead.

They maintained it until 16:44 of the final period when Jean Ratelle tied the game and Pete Semkowski scored on a feed from Bruce MacGregor at 1:37 of a sudden death overtime to give the Rangers the lead in their best-of-seven series.

The two teams meet again in Chicago Tuesday night and then go to New York for games Thursday night and Sunday.

It was the second straight overtime victory for the

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Cut Down on Fat, Sugar, Flour

Calories Make Difference

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Could you please advise people who are on ulcer or bland diets how to lose weight? The majority of foods in these diets are fattening. Most sensible diets to lose weight recommend eating lots of fresh fruits and vegetables. What do you do if these are prohibited? I have gone so far as to measure the quantities of my food and still have not lost weight. I also exercise daily. I am sure there are many people in the same situation.

Dear Reader—Look for ways you can eliminate fat, sugar and flour from your diet. For all cooking that calls for milk, use nonfat dry milk powder. This will provide a lot of protein and still keep the calories down.

The mistake most people make is they don't really appreciate the difference in the calorie content for foods of the same weight. To illustrate the point, there are nearly eight times as many calories in the same amount of raw cured bacon as there are in uncreamed cottage cheese. Even lean round steak with all the visible fat removed, still has one-third of its calories from fat.

A significant factor is the amount of water in food. Most fat tissues contain very little water and this is one of the reasons fats have so many more calories than lean meat. Lean fish, such as trout, white fish, red fish and red snapper, has very few calories because it contains so little fat.

Fryer chicken (not older chicken), particularly the breast meat with the skin removed, provides an excellent protein source without many calories. This can be baked, broiled or stewed.

If fresh fruits and vegetables are prohibited, it is important to get some supplementary vitamins, particularly Vitamin C, or your diet will be deficient.

Dear Dr. Lamb — When mature people have surgery and later develop hernias, are they caused by negligence of the surgeon? If not, what is the cause and can the hernias be corrected?

Dear Reader—Most scars are weaker than normal tissue. There are many factors which affect wound-healing and the strength of a scar, including the state of nutrition. The strength of the scar can be improved by adding Vitamin C to the diet if the previous Vitamin C intake has been deficient.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "Here is a hand from the magazine 'Popular Bridge' that illustrates several principles of no-trump play."

Oswald: "It starts with the hold up: South lets East hold the first heart trick, but wins the second. Then he attacks in diamonds, dummy's long suit."

Jim: "South isn't too happy with his contract, but he is going to go for nine tricks. When West plays the jack of diamonds, South sees considerable hope."

Oswald: "He is sure of four diamond tricks at this point unless East is going through some hocus-pocus four to the king-10. Four diamonds plus two hearts and two spades brings him to eight. He needs a club trick for his contract."

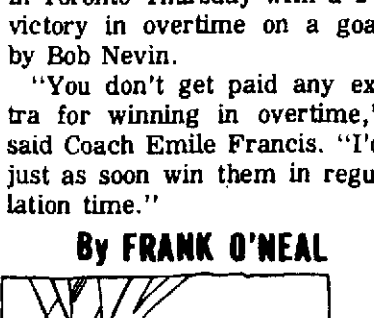

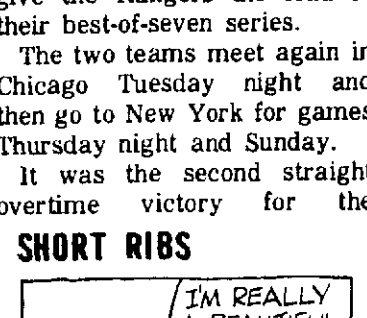

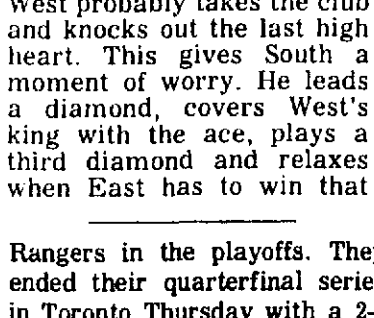

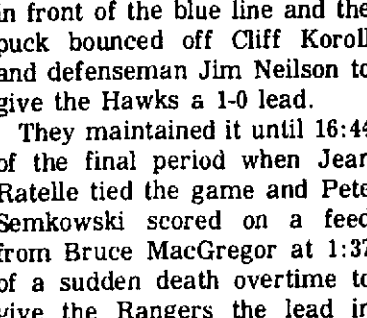

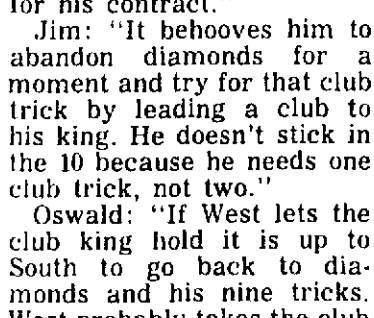

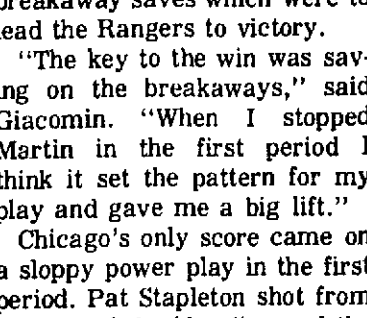

Jim: "It behooves him to abandon diamonds for a moment and try for that club trick by leading a club to his king. He doesn't stick in the 10 because he needs one club trick, not two."

Oswald: "If West lets the club king hold it is up to South to go back to diamonds and his nine tricks. West probably takes the club and knocks out the last high heart. This gives South a moment of worry. He leads a diamond, covers West's king with the ace, plays a third diamond and relaxes when East has to win that Rangers in the playoffs. They ended their quarterfinal series in Toronto Thursday with a 2-1 victory in overtime on a goal by Bob Nevin.

"You don't get paid any extra for winning in overtime," said Coach Emile Francis. "I'd just as soon win them in regulation time."

Execute All
Insurgents

By MORT ROSENBLUM

Associated Press Writer

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Government troops attacking a forest full of rebels say they execute their captives as soon as they're convinced the prisoners are insurgents.

Ten have been shot and twelve more are being executed today, said a ranking officer who reported that rebel battle casualties in the hills around Kegalle totalled 200 last week.

"Once we are convinced prisoners are insurgents, we take them to the cemetery and dispose of them," he told newsmen.

Another officer said the idea of a truce with the rebels had come up but his solution was total destruction of the leftist movement that tried to overthrow the government on April 5.

"We have learned too many lessons from Vietnam and Malaysia. We must destroy them completely," said Lt. Col. Cyril Ranatunga, who heads a force of troops and police shelling an estimated 4,500-5,000 insurgents in a thickly forested triangle about 40 miles east of Colombo. He said this is the backbone of the rebel army.

Ranatunga said his forces had been raining mortar fire on the rebel strongholds, but "we cannot go in" because of rebel snipers, tree-trunk road blocks and sentries who warn insurgents to scatter and hide.

Inside the triangle are the rich graphite mines at Bogala, where rebels seized 12,000 sticks of dynamite, and large gasoline stores they are using to make firebombs.

Fear of the government force have been killed in the past week.

This surveillance is to be maintained for the duration of this current school term and as long as it is necessary to enforce the State's Public School's compulsory attendance law in the Hope School District, the Ministers said.

REP. MCLARTY

Rockefeller years with many important studies which were implemented by Bumpers into legislation.

The simple fact is that when a political unknown (Bumpers) in a period of only 8 weeks topples Arkansas' two biggest political giants (Rockefeller & Faubus) in succession he is a man to be reckoned with. Add to this his ability to reason and work with the legislature and the changes in the makeup of the House and Senate then you have the chemistry to do great things.

In an earlier column we pointed out that legislatures, like people, have individual personalities subject to prejudices and emotional reaction. And we pointed out that the very strength of our system is the ability of our legislative bodies to meet the current needs of the public. If they do not respond, then the people change to representatives who will serve their needs and interests.

Landmark Legislation

What were some of the accomplishments shared by Governor Bumpers and the 68th General Assembly?

Reorganization of State

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

Government—to consolidate 63 state agencies into 13 major departments to report directly to and to be held responsible by the Governor. (The impact of the passage of this bill was so overwhelmingly favorable that it set the tone for the remainder of the entire session and gave Bumpers a major victory.)

Merit System for State Employees—requires state employees to meet certain standards to assure qualification for their job. Also protects them from political "housecleanings" during changes in administration. This encourages professionalism in the operation of government.

Educational Salary Raises—This is to further raise the level of teachers' salaries to encourage the retention of top teachers in Arkansas. An average raise of $900 over the next two years.

Improved Sources of Tax Revenues—Two taxes—the graduate income tax increase and the 5c cigarette tax—provide 50 per cent of all revenues needed in the Governor's $26 Million tax program. The income tax is far superior to the regressive sales tax because it draws the most money from those most able to pay.

Repeal of the "Fair Trade"

Liquor Law—This repeals the law guaranteeing fixed profits on liquor, forcing them to become competitors in the style of free enterprise.

Code of Ethics—The state's first such bill to require all public officials to make public their financial and employment interests.

Medical Scholarship and Loan Program—To provide incentives for doctors to practice medicine in rural communities.

Consumer Protection—To set up in the Attorney General's Office a division to hear complaints regarding fraudulent or deceptive business practices.

Uniform Controlled Substance Act—To strengthen state laws governing narcotics and other dangerous drugs.

Solid Waste Disposal—To require and authorize funds for the community disposal of solid wastes, a major ecology bill.

Home Rule for Cities—To allow first class cities to exercise legislative power pertaining to municipal affairs and to allow the levying of income taxes subject to vote approval by election.

Prison Reform Bills—A first offender's treatment facility to keep first offenders separate from other inmates, and to provide for them specialized counseling, vocational and educational programs. A work-release program is also set up whereby an inmate may be employed outside the prison or attend schools outside the prison so long as he returns at night.

Merger of U. of A. with Arkansas A & M and A. M. & N—To operate the Monticello school as a branch of the University, as well as the Pine Bluff institution.

Congressional Redistricting—To conform to the one-man-one-vote requirements of the 1970 census, resulting in Hempstead County now becoming part of the 4th Congressional District (Pryor).

State Construction Programs—Major improvements in (1) school districts (2) Prison farms (3) State Parks (4) Children's Colony (5) Universities and Colleges.

3 Proposed Constitutional Amendments

In addition to the above, the legislature paved the way to an election in November of 1972 on three proposed constitutional amendments:

(1) To lower the minimum voting age to 18.

(2) To provide 4-year terms for Governor and State Constitutional Offices.

(3) To provide for the election of House and Senate members on a single-member district basis; annual House sessions; easier passage of appropriations; and to allow the state income tax to become a percentage of the federal tax.

Legislative Reform

Amendments are one part of legislative reform. Another part comes from the realization that our operating procedures leave much to be desired.

The legislature is burdened with a number of rigid and archaic Constitutional restrictions. The legislature is allowed to meet in regular session only once in every two years. Most of us serve on four committees, many of which meet at conflicting times. There is usually no committee agenda and there is never any written committee reports on bills except for "do pass" and "do not pass." We also have no committee research staff. The Citizens Conference on State Legislatures ranked Arkansas 46th in the nation, below Mississippi. This was not a ranking on the quality of our Legislature, which I certainly think was very high this session. It was a ranking in terms of facilities, committee staff, compensation, information sources, etc. The conclusion of the CCLS was that the Arkansas

Monday, April 19, 1971

Legislature was understaffed, underhoused, and underpaid. We passed a bill to set up a 17-man committee, half of whom would be public members and half of whom would be legislators. The committee is directed to make a thorough and comprehensive study of the legislature and to recommend changes. It is also authorized to employ professional help to make a study if need be.

The Final Judgment

During our 70-day session we considered about 1,700 bills and resolutions. Contrary to what you may have heard we did a lot more than argue about selecting a new State Waltz or who was going to become Poet Laureate.

It was a hard working and determined legislature which proved that the executive and legislative branches can work together to produce some exciting and far-reaching improvements for the people of our state.

I think this session restored faith in the ability of state government to meet the needs of the day while doing the most right for the most people.

If someone asked me to inscribe an evaluation of the 68th General Assembly I would simply say, "They made the state a better place to live."
